

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

JOHN MCCLINTOCK,

Plaintiff,

v.

G. VALENCIA, et al.,

Defendants.

No. 2:22-cv-1884 KJM CSK P

ORDER

Plaintiff is a state prisoner proceeding pro se. Defendants' motion to compel discovery is before the Court. Multiple motions are pending. As set forth below, defendants' motion to compel is granted, plaintiff's request for judicial notice is denied, plaintiff's motion to compel is partially granted, and plaintiff's motion for appointment of an expert is denied without prejudice.

I. PLAINTIFF'S FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT

On May 23, 2024, the district court ordered that this case proceed on the following claims: (1) First Amendment retaliation claims as to defendants G. Valencia, L. Cantu and T. Cooper (claims one, two and ten); (2) Plaintiff's claim that defendants Weaver, Luther and Hadden confiscated and destroyed a box of plaintiff's legal materials in retaliation for plaintiff pursuing litigation as evidenced by the materials in the box that were clearly labeled (claims five, six and seven); and (3) Plaintiff's claim that in August 2020, defendants J. Cantu, Vega, Sgt. T. Coker, and Lt. J. Charon violated plaintiff's rights by orchestrating the placement of a violent and

1 unstable Level IV inmate into plaintiff's cell, failing to protect plaintiff from harm (claims three,
2 eight and nine). (ECF No. 20 at 3 (addressing ECF No. 9).) These claims are based on incidents
3 that took place while plaintiff was housed at Mule Creek State Prison. (ECF No. 9 at 11-14.)

4 II. BACKGROUND

5 On January 6, 2025, the Court issued the discovery and scheduling order. (ECF No. 41.)

6 On April 21, 2025, defendants' first motion to modify the discovery and scheduling order
7 was granted, and the deadlines to file a motion to compel and to depose plaintiff were extended to 8 July 1, 2025, and the pretrial motions deadline was extended to August 29, 2025. (ECF No. 47.)

9 On June 5, 2025, plaintiff's motion to compel production of documents (ECF No. 43) was 10 denied. (ECF No. 48.) The discovery deadline was extended to August 1, 2025, solely to enable 11 plaintiff to renew his motion to compel further production of documents following his conference
12 with counsel for defendants. (Id.) The pretrial motions deadline was stayed pending further order
13 of the Court. In all other respects, the prior scheduling and discovery orders (ECF Nos. 41, 47)
14 remain in effect unless otherwise modified by the Court. (Id.)

15 On June 19, 2025, defendants filed a motion to compel discovery responses.¹ (ECF No.
16 49.) On July 17, 2025, plaintiff filed his opposition. (ECF No. 50.) On July 24, 2025,
17 defendants filed their reply to plaintiff's opposition. (ECF No. 53.)

18 On July 17, 2025, plaintiff filed a motion for appointment of a document examiner/19 handwriting expert. (ECF No. 51.) On August 8, 2025, defendants filed an opposition to 20 plaintiff's motion for appointment of a document examiner/handwriting expert. (ECF No. 54.)
21 On August 19, 2025, plaintiff filed his reply. (ECF No. 56.)

22 On July 17, 2025, plaintiff filed a motion to compel pretrial discovery. (ECF No. 52.) On 23 August 8, 2025, defendants filed an opposition to plaintiff's motion to compel. (ECF No. 55.)
24 On August 25, 2025, plaintiff filed a request for judicial notice, which this court construes as 25 plaintiff's reply to defendants' opposition. (ECF No. 57.)

No. 47.)

1 III. STANDARDS GOVERNING DISCOVERY DISPUTES

2 Under Rule 37 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, “a party seeking discovery may 3 move for an order compelling an answer, designation, production, or inspection.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
4 37(a)(3)(B). The court may order a party to provide further responses to an “evasive or 5 incomplete disclosure, answer, or response.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(a)(4). “District courts have 6 ‘broad discretion to manage discovery and to control the course of litigation under Federal Rule
7 of Civil Procedure 16.’” Hunt v. County of Orange, 672 F.3d 606, 616 (9th Cir. 2012) (quoting
8 Avila v. Willits Env'tl. Remediation Trust, 633 F.3d 828, 833 (9th Cir. 2011)).

9 The party moving to compel bears the burden of informing the court (1) which discovery
10 requests are the subject of the motion to compel, (2) which of the responses are disputed, (3) why
11 the party believes the response is deficient, (4) why any objections are not justified, and (5) why
12 the information sought through discovery is relevant to the prosecution of this action. McCoy v.
13 Ramirez, 2016 WL 3196738, at *1 (E.D. Cal. June 9, 2016); Ellis v. Cambra, 2008 WL 860523, 14 at *4 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 27, 2008). The reach of Rule 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, 15 which governs requests for production, “extends to all relevant documents, tangible things, and 16 entry upon designated land or other property.” Clark v. Vega Wholesale Inc., 181 F.R.D. 470, 17 472-73 (D. Nev. 1998) (citing 8A C. Wright & A. Miller, Federal Practice and Procedure § 2206, 18 at 381).

19 The purpose of discovery is to “remove surprise from trial preparation so the parties can 20 obtain evidence necessary to evaluate and resolve their dispute.” United States v. Chapman
21 University, 245 F.R.D. 646, 648 (C.D. Cal. 2007) (quotation and citation omitted). Rule 26(b)(1)
22 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure offers guidance on the scope of discovery permitted:

23 Parties may obtain discovery regarding any nonprivileged 24 information that is relevant to any party’s claim or defense and 25 proportional to the needs of the case, considering the importance of 26 the issues at stake in the action, the amount in controversy, the 27 parties’ relative access to relevant information, the parties’ resources, the importance of the discovery in resolving the issues, and whether the burden or expense of the proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit. Information within this scope of discovery need not be admissible in evidence to be discoverable.

28 Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(1).

“Relevance for purposes of discovery is defined very broadly.” Garneau v. City of Seattle, 147 F.3d 802, 812 (9th Cir. 1998). “The party seeking to compel discovery has the burden of establishing that its request satisfies the relevancy requirements of Rule 26(b)(1). Thereafter, the party opposing discovery has the burden of showing that the discovery should be prohibited, and the burden of clarifying, explaining or supporting its objections.” Bryant v. Ochoa, 2009 WL 1390794, at *1 (S.D. Cal. May 14, 2009) (internal citation omitted).

IV. DEFENDANTS’ MOTION TO COMPEL

Defendants seek to compel: (1) proper responses to requests asking plaintiff to identify persons who allegedly witnessed the three separate incidents he alleges against ten defendants (Interrogatories Nos. 3-11 and Request for Production of Document No. 3); (2) proper responses identifying the injuries plaintiff attributes to each of the ten defendants, including the medical staff and treatment he received for those injuries (Interrogatories Nos. 12-16); and (3) a response to Interrogatory No. 22, asking plaintiff to explain what he meant in his complaint when he alleged that “Defendant Luther knew that approving the destruction of sensitive materials would harm Plaintiff’s protected right to litigate,” to which plaintiff failed to respond. (ECF No. 49.)

A. Governing Rules

A motion to compel may be made if “a party fails to answer an interrogatory submitted under Rule 33; or a party fails to produce documents or fails to respond that inspection will be permitted . . . as requested under Rule 34.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(a)(3)(B)(iii)-(iv). Rules 33 and 34 require that a responding party serve its answers and any objections to interrogatory requests and respond in writing to any production requests within 30 days after being served with the requests, unless a different timeframe is stipulated to or ordered by the court. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 33(b)(2); Fed. R. Civ. P. 34(b)(2)(A).

1 RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 11: Please see Response
2 to No. 3, supra.

3 (ECF No. 49 at 14-16, 35.)

4 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 3: Produce all witness
5 statements that you have related to your allegations against 6 Defendants as alleged in your Complaint (ECF No. 9).

7 RESPONSE TO REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 3:
8 Contingent upon upcoming Discovery and as soon as the list of 9 names of persons and entities are known, Plaintiff will be mindful to 10 disclose the same to all parties.

11 (ECF No. 49 at 26, 33.)

12 Defendants state that at the meet and confer, plaintiff informed defense counsel that 13 plaintiff had an “incomplete list” of the witnesses, but would provide the names only after he 14 compiled a “complete list.” (ECF No. 49 at 4.) Defendants argue such concession demonstrates 15 plaintiff has responsive information he refuses to produce, in violation of Rule 26(e)(1)(A). (Id.)

16 Plaintiff contends that he is not required to disclose witness information because plaintiff
17 “will provide the defendants the names of witnesses as earliest [sic] as possible and . . . he has not 18 decided whether . . . he will even call any or all witnesses to testify at trial,” and that defendants 19 can identify the relevant “State Actors” through the “CDCR-SOMS” system. (ECF No. 50 at 3-20 4.) Plaintiff claims to supplement the “discoverable documents” with the exhibits attached to his 21 opposition. (Id. at 4.) Further, plaintiff contends that “state actors familiar with this case . . . are 22 identifiable in the CDCR-SOMS when they logged in and gained free access to plaintiff’s central 23 file.” (Id.)

24 In reply, defendants object that plaintiff’s concession that witness information exists, but 25 he refuses to produce it absent any legal justification, is improper because it requires defendants
26 to comb through unidentified records and then speculate about which individuals or documents
27 are relevant to plaintiff’s claims against each of the ten defendants. (ECF No. 53 at 2.) 28 Defendants argue that plaintiff’s “refusal undermines the fundamental purposes of discovery” which allows discovery of “any nonprivileged matter that is relevant to any party’s claim or defense and proportional to the needs of the case.” (Id. (citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 26).)

Defendants' motion is well-taken. Interrogatories Nos. 3 through 11 seek the identification of each person who allegedly witnessed the incidents described in plaintiff's first amended complaint. Also, Request for Production of Documents No. 3 asks plaintiff to produce any witness statements related to plaintiff's allegations against defendants. Plaintiff must identify witnesses he is aware of who are likely to have discoverable information and who plaintiff "may" use to support his claims or defenses. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(A)(i) (requiring disclosure of "each individual likely to have discoverable information—along with the subjects of that information—that the disclosing party may use to support its claims or defenses, unless the use would be solely for impeachment"). In addition, plaintiff is required to produce any nonprivileged witness statement plaintiff has in his possession or control, and must supplement his responses as additional statements are received. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(e)(1)(A). Plaintiff shall, without objection, provide further responses to Interrogatories Nos. 3 to 11 for all defendants, and shall identify documents responsive to Request for Production No. 3 in a way that identifies the document as responsive to request no. 3.

C. Discovery re Plaintiff's Injuries

INTERROGATORY NO. 12: Describe in detail all the injuries that YOU allege DEFENDANTS caused YOU, as described in YOUR Complaint (ECF No. 9).

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 12: All injuries resulting from Defendants' direct, multiple actions and harms, Plaintiff alleges he suffered include physical (person and property) and mental injuries (added to the gross anguish, hostilities, threats, deliberate and knowingly false and misleading misconduct) which have compounded. This information is readily comprised in the Plaintiff's Medical and Mental Health records, and CFile/SOMS. The fullest extent of his injuries also is evident by the Defendants' own actions, evil intentions, reckless or callous disregard to Plaintiff's Constitutional rights.

INTERROGATORY NO. 13: Identify all individuals with whom YOU discussed YOUR allegations against DEFENDANTS as alleged in YOUR Complaint (ECF No. 9).

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 13: This request is overly broad, vague to time frame; "all individuals" with whom plaintiff discussed his allegations against the Defendants as alleged in his complaint fails in particularity, and frankly is unintelligible, unduly burdensome, oppressive, harassing because it would require Plaintiff to compile and produce data on an extensive, exhaustive array of documents extending back a decade when the retaliations, legal mail tampering and impeding Court Procedures and Orders, trespassings on Plaintiff's case, interfering with Plaintiff's pro-rehabilitative programming, endangering the safety and well-being of Plaintiff, deliberate and knowingly false "State Forms" to taint Plaintiff's C-file/SOMS, . . . all began -- directly evolving into Case in bar.

INTERROGATORY NO. 14: Identify all health care staff who provided YOU treatment for the injuries YOU allege DEFENDANTS caused YOU as alleged in YOUR Complaint (ECF No. 9).

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 14: Prison Medical and Nursing Staff and Mental Health Providers provided the care and treatment plans detailed in their records which are readily available to the Defendants. Plaintiff has no objection to them accessing his files, at their cost.

INTERROGATORY NO. 15: Describe all medical treatment that health care staff prescribed YOU for the injuries YOU allege DEFENDANTS caused YOU in YOUR Complaint (ECF No. 9).

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 15: The litany of what medical and mental treatments Plaintiff received and still receive is contained in his Medical and Mental Health Records. Plaintiff has no objection to the Defendants accessing his files, at their cost.

INTERROGATORY NO. 16: Provide the dates for the medical request (CDCR 7362) forms you submitted regarding the injuries YOU allege DEFENDANTS caused YOU in YOUR Complaint (ECF No. 9).

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 16: The dates of multiple and extensive 7362 Requests and their responses are contained in Plaintiff's Medical and Mental Health Records. Plaintiff has no objections to the Defendants accessing his files.

(ECF No. 49 at 16-17; 35-37.)

1. The Parties' Positions

Defendants argue that plaintiff's responses are burdensome and improper because they require defendants to "comb through unspecified records and speculate about which materials relate to plaintiff's claims against each of the ten defendants." (ECF No. 49 at 5.) Defendants maintain that medical records do not connect plaintiff's injuries to a specific defendant and will not identify persons with whom plaintiff discussed his injuries. (Id.)

In opposition, plaintiff claims he has directed defendants to plaintiff's central file, medical and mental health E-files which have been accessible for the last seven months. (ECF No. 50 at 5.) Plaintiff then sets forth a laundry list of his physical and emotional injuries. (Id. at 5-6.) In his conclusion, plaintiff states he “has made reasonable efforts to direct the defendants to the sources where they may find -- if they choose -- the information they seek.” (Id. at 6.)

In reply, defendants point out that plaintiff “lists a litany of injuries he allegedly suffered at the hands of defendants,” but fails to “identify the health care staff who allegedly treated him and the treatment that he received.” (ECF No. 53 at 2-3 (citing ECF No. 50 at 5-6).) Defendants object that the medical records alone do not identify which injury is attributed to which of the ten defendants and do not identify individuals with whom plaintiff may have discussed such injuries. (ECF No. 53 at 3.)

2. Discussion

Again, defendants’ motion is well-taken. Providing a list of injuries does not identify which injury is attributable to which of the ten defendants. Plaintiff is advised that simply directing defendants to source materials is insufficient to constitute a proper discovery response. Plaintiff is required to answer discovery requests, providing responses that show defendants what evidence plaintiff contends supports his claims against each defendant. Plaintiff shall provide, without objections, further responses to Interrogatories Nos. 12 through 16, without directing defendants to plaintiff’s medical and mental health records.

D. Discovery re Explanation of Allegation: Interrogatory No. 22

INTERROGATORY NO. 22: Describe in detail what YOU meant by the statement, “Defendant K. Luther knew that approving the destruction of sensitive materials that it would harm Plaintiff’s protected right to litigate,” as alleged in YOUR Complaint (ECF No. 9 on page 24).

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 22: [No response.]

(ECF No. 49 at 19, 38.)

1. The Parties’ Positions

Defendants argue that plaintiff failed to respond to Interrogatory No. 22. Plaintiff contends his failure to respond to Interrogatory No. 22 was an oversight, and responds as follows:

[1] Defendant Luther was informed in writing by Plaintiff’s Request for Interview Form-22 of the active, ongoing Federal Case 2:18-cv-0560 involving his subordinates who were already defendants, [2]

Defendant Luther oversaw and endorsed all activities right in front of him -- including but not limited to: (a) the illogical, substantiable threat on staff solely based on an anonymous note not even close to Plaintiff's handwriting. However, the Defendant chose to follow through with ruse scheme happening before him rather than put a stop and correct it; (b) the confiscation and destruction of an entire box (2 x 1 x 1 ft³) marked Confidential/Legal containing Evidence of his subordinates including Fed. Ct. ordered Sealed R.I.C.O. Motions, Declarations, informants . . .) on the active, ongoing case. As a Captain with experience and knowhow -- held to the highest standards -- he should have known the right thing to do but chose to endorse the freezing (Chilling). He should have known that Chilling is harm to the Plaintiff who only sought to meet with him.

(ECF No. 50 at 3-4.) Following his response regarding Interrogatory No. 22, plaintiff provided additional exhibits "[i]n an effort to continue to show cooperation for mutual discovery," claiming he is supplementing the discoverable documents with documents to which defendants have already had access. (ECF No. 50 at 4, 9-38.) In reply, defendants object that plaintiff "offers a conclusory assertion and attaches approximately 30 pages of unrelated exhibits with no explanation identifying which exhibits correspond to which discovery request. (ECF No. 53 at 3.) Defendants object that plaintiff's exhibits are "unrelated, unauthenticated, and largely illegible, including a "Notice of Confidential Information in Advance of Parole Hearing," "Inmate Property Inventory," and "Authorization for Release of Protected Health Information." (ECF No. 53 at 3.)

2. Discussion

Defendants' objections are sustained. Plaintiff shall provide, without objection, a written response to Interrogatory No. 22. In addition, as to the exhibits provided with plaintiff's opposition (ECF No. 50 at 9-38), plaintiff is required to identify the discovery request to which each document corresponds. In order to assist plaintiff in this process, the Clerk is directed to send plaintiff a copy of his exhibits. (ECF No. 50 at 9-38.) As plaintiff will see, not every page is completely legible (id. at 9, 10, 27, 28), and many pages have text running off the page (id. at 11-17, 19-20, 22, 24, 26, 29-31, 33-35). Thus, plaintiff is ordered to serve on counsel for defendants another complete set of these exhibits, ensuring each page is legible and that all text of each exhibit is included in the photocopy. Plaintiff shall include an index clearly identifying the exhibit as well as the discovery request to which the document corresponds. Plaintiff is cautioned that because he includes many of his own declarations, identifying the exhibit by "Plaintiff's

1 Declaration” will be insufficient to identify the exhibit. Plaintiff may use the CM/ECF page
2 number if that helps plaintiff identify the responsive document.

3 E. Conclusion

4 Defendants’ motion to compel further responses (ECF No. 49) is granted. Within thirty
5 days from the date of this order, plaintiff shall provide further responses to Interrogatories Nos. 3
6 through 11, 12 through 16, and 22, and Request for Production No. 3, and re-serve his exhibits
7 (ECF No. 50 at 9-38) with an index identifying the exhibit and the discovery request to which the 8 document corresponds.

9 V. PLAINTIFF’S REQUEST FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

10 On August 25, 2025, plaintiff filed a document styled, “Plaintiff’s Request Court - 11 Judicial Notice of the Document Captioned as Defendants’ Opposition to Plaintiff’s Motion to 12 Compel Production of Documents Dated August 8, 2025, As Well As Defendants’ May Benefit 13 by Taking Administrative Notice of the Same Reading.” (ECF No. 57 at 1.) Plaintiff’s proof of 14 service is dated August 19, 2025. (Id. at 4.)

15 To the extent plaintiff asks the Court to take judicial notice of defendants’ opposition, 16 such request is not properly the subject of judicial notice. Defendants’ opposition is part of the 17 Court’s record, and the Court does not need to take judicial notice of filings in this case for 18 resolution of an issue in this case. Plaintiff’s request to take judicial notice of defendants’
19 opposition is denied as unnecessary.

20 Plaintiff also discusses the merits of plaintiff’s motion to compel in his request. (ECF No.
21 57.) Therefore, the Court construes plaintiff’s request as his reply to defendants’ opposition (ECF
22 No. 55), and will consider plaintiff’s reply in addressing plaintiff’s motion to compel, discussed 23 next.

24 VI. PLAINTIFF’S MOTION TO COMPEL

25 Plaintiff seeks to compel further responses to Requests for Production Nos. 1, 3 through 26 18, and 35. (ECF No. 52 at 11-24, 37-41, 46.)

27 A. The Parties’ Positions

28 Plaintiff contends that he has complied with defendants’ discovery requests, allowed

1 access to his central file, medical and mental health records, and participated in a deposition, yet
 2 defendants have produced no documents. (ECF No. 52 at 2-3.) Plaintiff believes that each
 3 defendant “has been involved in a past wrongdoing, misconduct, and/or criminal wrong against 4 another inmate and possibly similar wrongdoing.” (Id. at 3.) Plaintiff contends that based on the 5 public interest, the Court should order each defendants’ entire personnel file to be reviewed “with 6 a compliance check with the CDCR Office of Internal Affairs.” (Id. at 4-5.) Plaintiff believes 7 that each defendant has a history of “unsavory” interactions, for example, setting up inmates,
 8 false and wrongful disciplinaries, and tainting or destroying information. (Id. at 5.) Plaintiff
 9 argues that defendants’ objections should be overruled. (Id. at 6-10.) In response to defendants’
 10 claim that “[n]one of these defendants have been investigated or disciplined for any allegations or 11 claims in this lawsuit” or similar matters, plaintiff contends the response is “repetitive in nature,
 12 double talk, manipulating words, empty statements.” (Id. at 10.)

13 Defendants counter that plaintiff’s motion should be denied because defendants properly
 14 responded that, after a reasonable search and diligent inquiry, no responsive documents exist,
 15 which is supported by the declaration of the Employee Relations Officer at Mule Creek State
 16 Prison. (ECF No. 55 at 3.)

17 In reply, plaintiff claims he compromised by reducing the number of requests he seeks to 18 compel, and states that “[t]he remaining requested items do exist in the defendants’ personnel
 19 files.” (ECF No. 57 at 1-2.) Plaintiff argues that “past behaviors of the defendants” warrant 20 disclosure, and points out that the Court may conduct an in camera review of their personnel files, 21 and that defendants’ privacy concerns can be addressed by protective order or redaction. (Id. at 22 2-3.)

23 B. Plaintiff’s Request for Production No. 1

24 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 1: [1] All documents that 25 refer to the allegations of misconduct or other improper conduct by 26 prison staff involving the defendants listed: G. Valenica, L. Cantu, 27 T. Cooper, C. Weaver, K. Luther, L. Hadden, J. Cantu (A/W), J.
 28 Vega, T. Coker, J. Charon. Whether such allegations were made by an inmate or by a member of the prison staff per DOM §§ 54100.25-5, 54100.25-6, 24100.25.7, pursuant to p.c. § 832.5(a) evidence codes §§ 1043, 1044, 1045, 1046. Subject to limitations of this request for production of documents - plaintiff requests that they may be

1 reasonably narrowed to include only those grievances or complaints
 2 filed against any of the defendants that involve claims similar to these 3 raised by the plaintiff in the instant action - reprisal for initiating or 4 attempting to initiate his/her first amendment rights of free speech.

5 RESPONSE TO REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 1:
 6 Defendants object to this request on the grounds that it is vague and 7 overbroad as to the timeframe of the documents requested. This 8 request is unduly burdensome, oppressive, and harassing because it
 9 encompasses every document ever prepared that refers to any staff 10 complaint filed against one of the Defendants by inmates, staff, or 11 members of the public. The request seeks documents that are not 12 relevant to any claims or defenses in this case and the request is not 13 reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence 14 and is not proportionate to the needs of the case. This request calls
 15 for the production of documents which are protected from disclosure
 16 by California Code of Regulations, Title 15, §§ 3321 and 3370, state
 17 law, and the official-information privilege. See, e.g., Cal. Pen. Code.
 18 §§ 832.7, 832.8.; Cal. Gov. Code §§ 3300-3313, 6254. It also 19 requests documents the production of which would violate the 20 privacy rights of non-parties and the Defendants. This request is 21 unduly burdensome, oppressive, and harassing because staff
 22 complaints against a single officer are not necessarily kept in a 23 centralized location, but rather are kept with the records of the inmate 24 who files that complaint, and locating all such documents would 25 necessitate searching the records of every current and former inmate 26 who has ever been housed in an institution where one of the 27 Defendants was available.

28 Without waiving these objections, and after reasonable search and diligent inquiry, none of the Defendants have been investigated or disciplined for any of the allegations or claims in this lawsuit, or for matters similar to the allegations or claims in this lawsuit.

(ECF No. 55-1 at 5-6.)

1. Discussion

Defendants' objections are sustained. Plaintiff did not limit the request by time, and initially seeks "all documents" that refers to "misconduct or improper conduct," which is also overbroad and vague. However, plaintiff then states his request may be "reasonably narrowed to include only those grievances or complaints filed against any of the defendants that involve claims similar to these raised by the plaintiff in the instant action - reprisal for initiating or attempting to initiate his/her first amendment rights of free speech." (ECF No. 55-1 at 5.) The Court finds that requiring defendants to produce all grievances alleging retaliation would be disproportionate to the needs of the case. However, if one of the named defendants has been sued based on retaliation allegations similar to those alleged herein, such complaints could be relevant,

1 depending on the outcome of the cases. In addition, defendants’ response that “none of the 2 Defendants have been investigated or disciplined for any of the allegations or claims in this 3 lawsuit, or for matters similar to the allegations or claims in this lawsuit,” is not responsive to 4 plaintiff’s request for grievances or complaints filed against any of the defendants for similar
 5 retaliation claims. Therefore, defendants are required to file a further response to plaintiff’s
 6 request No. 1 to produce any complaint filed in a lawsuit against any of the named defendants
 7 based on retaliation allegations similar to those alleged herein, from five years prior to the filing
 8 of this action, October 21, 2017, to October 21, 2022, the date plaintiff filed the instant action.

9 C. Plaintiff’s Request for Production Nos. 3 - 18

10 The parties addressed these requests together, and because defendants’ objections and 11 responses are largely the same, the Court sets forth plaintiff’s requests, followed by an example of 12 defendants’ objections and response.

13 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 3: [3] All adverse action
 14 records, which is punitive in nature and is intended to correct staff 15 misconduct or poor performance, or which terminates employment of each defendant named herein – pursuant to E.V. §§ 1043, 1044, 1046.

16 RESPONSE TO REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 3:
 17 Defendants object to this request on the grounds that it is vague and 18 overbroad as to the timeframe of the documents requested, and vague
 19 and ambiguous as to the meaning of the terms “all adverse action
 20 records,” “punitive in nature,” “intended to correct staff
 21 misconduct,” and “poor performance.” The request seeks documents 22 that are not relevant to any claims or defenses in this case and the 23 request is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence and is not proportionate to the needs of the case.
 This request also calls for the production of documents which are protected from disclosure by the California Code of Regulations, Title 15, §§ 3321 and 3370, state law, and the official-information privilege. See, e.g., Cal. Pen. Code. §§ 832.7, 832.8.; Cal. Gov. Code §§ 3300-3313, 6254. The request also seeks documents the production of which would violate the Defendants’ privacy rights.

24 Without waiving these objections, and after reasonable search and
 25 diligent inquiry, none of the Defendants have been investigated or 26 disciplined for any of the allegations or claims in this lawsuit, or for matters similar to the allegations or claims in this lawsuit.

27 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 4: [4] All bureau of 28 independent review (B.I.R.) records of any or all investigative and/or disciplinary action taken against each defendant named herein.
 Pursuant to E.V. §1046.

1 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 5: [5] All ‘Skelly Packages’:
 2 This material may include, but is not limited to, the following:
 3 investigative reports, applicable policies, procedures and 4 government code sections, records of training the 5 employee/defendant has attended, job description, and duty
 6 statements and/or post orders for each defendant named herein.
 7 Pursuant to E.V. §§1043, 1045, 1046. The plaintiff recognizes that 8 ‘Skelly Packages’ are informal processes to test whether employees’
 9 /defendants’ intended actions are adequately supported. They are to 10 serve only as an initial check against mistaken decisions in order to 11 determine whether there are reasonable grounds to support inquiry 12 [Skelly v State Personnel Board, 539 P.2d 744 (1975)].

13 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 6: [6] All ‘Corrective 14 Action(s)’ records for each defendant named herein; this material
 15 may include, but is not limited to, the following: verbal counseling, 16 in service training (I.S.T.), on-the-job training (O.J.T.), written 17 counselling, letter of instruction (L.O.I.) ... taken by a supervisor to 18 assist an employee in improvising his/her work performance
 19 behavior or conduct. Pursuant to E.V. §§ 1043, 1045, 1046.

20 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 7: [7] All ‘Designated
 21 case(s)’ records assigned to Vertical Advocates (V.A.) for each
 22 defendant named herein; this material may include, but is not limited
 23 to the following matters involving staff integrity and /or dishonesty,

 25 inmate suffers death or injury, use of deadly force, serious allegations made against supervisors and high profile or dismissal cases assigned to the V.A. by the AGC. Pursuant to E.V. §§ 1043, 1045, 1046.

26 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 8: [8] All ‘Employee
 27 Counseling Records’ for each defendant named herein; this material 28 may include, but is not limited to: written record(s) of counseling, documented on CDCR form 1123, between a supervisor and subordinate which provides formal instructions about laws, rules, policies, and employer expectations. Pursuant to E.V. §§ 1043, 1045, 1046.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 9: [9] All ‘Executive Review’

 penalty of settlement agreement, for each defendant named herein.
 Pursuant to E.V. §§ 1043, 1045, 1046.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 10: [10] All “Notice(s) of Adverse Action” for each defendant named herein; the material may include, but is not limited to the following: a notification to the affected employee of the charges against him/her, the adverse action penalty, and the effective date. Pursuant to E.V. §§ 1043, 1045,

5 agreement(s), to an affected employee regarding charges against 6 him/her and the intent to impose adverse action. This notification
7 summarizes the specific subsections of the Government code that had 8 been violated as well as the actions that constituted the violation.
9 Pursuant to E.V. §§1043, 1045, 1046.

10 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 13: [13] All 'Skelly Hearing'
11 result(s) records for each defendant named herein; this material may 12 include, but is not limited to the hiring authorities final decision(s)
13 regarding the imposition of a disciplinary penalty. Pursuant to E.V.
14 §§ 1043, 1045, 1046.

15 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 14: [14] All 'Skelly Letters'

(ECF No. 55-1 at 7-17.)

RESPONSE TO REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 3: Defendants object to this request on the grounds that it is vague and overbroad as to the timeframe of the documents requested, and vague and ambiguous as to the meaning of the terms “all adverse action records,” “punitive in nature,” “intended to correct staff misconduct,” and “poor performance.” The request seeks documents that are not relevant to any claims or defenses in this case and the request is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence and is not proportionate to the needs of the case. This request also calls for the production of documents which are protected from disclosure by the California Code of Regulations, Title 15, §§ 3321 and 3370, state law, and the official-information privilege. See, e.g., Cal. Pen. Code. §§ 832.7, 832.8.; Cal. Gov. Code §§ 3300-3313, 6254. The request also seeks documents the production of which would violate the Defendants’ privacy rights.

Without waiving these objections, and after reasonable search and diligent inquiry, none of the Defendants have been investigated or disciplined for any of the allegations or claims in this lawsuit, or for matters similar to the allegations or claims in this lawsuit.

(ECF No. 55-1 at 7.)

1. Discussion

The Court need not evaluate defendants’ objections because despite their objections, defendants responded that as to all defendants and as to all of the requests at issue here, after reasonable search and diligent inquiry, none of the defendants have been investigated or disciplined for any of the allegations or claims in this lawsuit, or for matters similar to the allegations or claims in this lawsuit. (Id. at 7-18.) Although plaintiff is correct that the Court can perform an in camera review of personnel records, plaintiff fails to demonstrate that such in camera review is required. Indeed, Employee Relations Officer M. Cota provided a declaration detailing the allegations at issue herein, reiterating the confidentiality of such records as well as privacy concerns, and declaring that M. Cota “personally reviewed the relevant personnel records of defendants identified in this action,” and found none of the defendants had been investigated or disciplined for any allegations raised in the instant case. (ECF No. 55-2 at 2.) In addition, M. Cota declared that “there is no record of any prior or subsequent investigation or disciplinary

1 action involving similar allegations or misconduct.” (Id.) Plaintiff’s bald claim that the 2 “requested items do exist” is insufficient to rebut M. Cota’s declaration. As argued by 3 defendants, “[t]he Court will not permit a party to challenge the other party’s objections based on 4 mere speculation.” Carter v. Dawson, 2010 WL 4483814, at *5 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 1, 2010).
 5 Plaintiff identified no document he claims defendants have withheld. No further production to 6 Request Nos. 3 - 18 is required.

7 D. Plaintiff’s Request for Production No. 35

8 REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 35: [35] For the above
 9 productions of items [1]-[34] to be authenticated in assurance and 10 preservation from spoilage, altered state/condition by an official 11 qualified and competent to authenticate their originality.

12 RESPONSE TO REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 35: This 13 request is not a proper request for production of documents under 14 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 34. Based on this objection, 15 Defendants decline to produce any documents in response to this 16 request.

17 (ECF No. 55-1 at 29-30.) Defendants’ objection is sustained. Request for Production No. 35 is 18 not a proper request for production of documents under Rule 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil 19 Procedure. No further production of documents is required.

20 D. Conclusion

21 Plaintiff’s motion to compel further production of documents is partially granted and 22 partially denied. Defendants are required to produce, within thirty days from the date of this 23 order, a further response to Request for Production No. 1, as set forth above. In all other respects,
 24 plaintiff’s motion to compel further production as to Request for Production of Documents Nos. 3 25 through 18 and 35 is denied.

26 VII. PLAINTIFF’S MOTION FOR AN EXPERT

27 Plaintiff seeks the appointment of an independent document examiner or handwriting 28 expert to evaluate an anonymous note which plaintiff claims is at the center of this case, alleging that the ten defendants retaliated against plaintiff based on this anonymous note which defendants allege plaintiff wrote, but plaintiff denies. (ECF No. 51 at 3-4.) Plaintiff contends that due to defendants’ connections, the Court should appoint the forensic unit of the FBI to evaluate the note. (Id. at 4.) Defendants oppose the motion, arguing that Rule 706 of the Federal Rules of Evidence does not permit the appointment of an expert to bolster plaintiff’s theory of the case, and because plaintiff proceeds in forma pauperis, public funds cannot be used to pay for expert witnesses in civil cases for indigent litigants. (ECF No. 54 at 1-3.) In reply, plaintiff contends he does not seek a neutral Court-appointed expert in any adjudicative capacity, but rather to examine existing evidence. (ECF No. 56 at 2-3.) Plaintiff now argues the expert is needed to assist the court in evaluating the anonymous note because “neither party nor the Court have the scientific, methodical expertise to examine the document in question.” (Id. at 4.)

A. Applicable Law

Federal Rule of Evidence 706 “permits a court to appoint a neutral expert to assist the court to understand complex, technical, or esoteric subject matter.” Woodroffe v. Oregon, 2014 WL 1383400, at *5 (D. Or. Apr. 8, 2014) (citing Walker v. Am. Home Shield Long Term Disability Plan, 180 F.3d 1065, 1071 (9th Cir. 1999)). However, “court appointment of experts is appropriate only in ‘rare circumstances’ and should be reserved for ‘exceptional cases.’” Herrington v. Elliot-Blakeslee, 2016 WL 1420976, at *4 (D. Or. Apr. 11, 2016) (citation omitted). Courts do not typically appoint experts when the record has been adequately developed, and the evidence or subject matter is not difficult to understand. See id. (noting that “court-appointed experts typically are used in complex litigation where the record is not clearly developed by the parties,” and denying a motion for a court-appointed expert because the facts were “not particularly complex,” the “subject matter or evidence [was] not difficult to understand,” the medical records were “clearly developed,” and an expert witness, who was “well-suited for [the] task,” addressed the health risk question at issue).

Ultimately, a “court’s decision whether to appoint an expert is discretionary,” but it is well settled that “there is no statutory authorization for a court-appointed investigator for civil litigants proceeding in forma pauperis.” Snow v. Mar, 785 F. App’x 465, 466 (9th Cir. 2019) (citing Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1051 n.7 (9th Cir. 2002)). Further, courts may not appoint an expert to “represent the interests of one party.” DeJesus v. Godinez, 720 F. App’x 766, 772 (7th Cir. 2017) (citing Kennedy v. Huibregtse, 831 F.3d 441, 443 (7th Cir. 2016)); see

1 also Woodroffe, 2014 WL 1383400, at *5 (explaining that “[a] court may not . . . appoint an
2 expert on behalf of an indigent civil party” (citing Tedder v. Odel, 890 F.2d 210, 211 (9th Cir.
3 1989)).

4 B. Discussion

5 The Court finds that plaintiff fails to demonstrate that his case is of such complexity that 6 the judicial appointment of a handwriting expert is necessary. See Skylstad v. Reynolds, 248 F.
7 App’x 808, 810 (9th Cir. 2007) (in prisoner’s civil rights action for medical malpractice,
8 retaliation, excessive force, deliberate indifference to medical needs, unlawful search and seizure,
9 and due process violations, the district court did not error in declining to appoint experts to assist 10 prisoner because action did not involve complex scientific evidence of complex issues); Neal v.
11 Campbell, 459 F. App’x 656, 658 (9th Cir. 2011) (civil rights action alleging First Amendment 12 free exercise and retaliation claims “did not involve complex issues or evidence.”).

13 Here, plaintiff pursues retaliation claims against defendants. The facts alleged are not 14 complex, and the subject matter or evidence is not difficult to understand. Moreover, plaintiff has 15 failed to demonstrate that a handwriting expert is necessary or would be useful to assist the trier
16 of fact to understand a material issue in this case. The Court exercises its discretion and denies 17 plaintiff’s motion for appointment of an expert to evaluate the handwriting on the anonymous 18 note.

19 VIII. ORDERS

20 Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that:

- 21 1. Defendants’ motion to compel further responses (ECF No. 49) is granted. Within 22 thirty days from the date of this order, plaintiff shall provide further responses to 23 Interrogatories Nos. 3 through 11, 12 through 16, and 22, and Request for Production 24 No. 3, and re-serve his exhibits (ECF No. 50 at 9-38) with an index identifying the 25 exhibit and the discovery request to which the document corresponds.
- 26 2. Plaintiff’s motion to compel (ECF No. 52) is partially granted and partially denied;
27 defendants are required to file a further response to plaintiff’s Request for Production 28 of Documents No. 1 to produce any complaint filed in a lawsuit against any of the named defendants based on retaliation allegations similar to those alleged herein, from five years prior to the filing of this action, October 21, 2017, to October 21, 2022; in all other respects, plaintiff's motion to compel further responses is denied.

3. Plaintiff's motion for appointment of an expert to evaluate the handwriting on the anonymous note (ECF No. 51) is denied.

4. Plaintiff's request for judicial notice (ECF No. 57) is denied.

5. Discovery is reopened and extended to January 30, 2026, for the sole purpose of resolving the discovery requests at issue herein.

6. In all other respects, discovery is closed, and the scheduling and discovery orders (ECF No. 41), as amended on April 21, 2025 (ECF No. 47), remain in effect unless otherwise modified by the Court.

7. The Clerk is directed to send plaintiff a copy of his exhibits. (ECF No. 50 at 9-38.)
